Parts for hot water heaters are available from a variety of places, including water heater manufacturers, hardware stores, plumbing suppliers and online auctions.Hot Water Heater Parts From the ManufacturerWhen you're repairing a hot water heater, there are some common parts that go bad, such as heating elements, and those parts are often fairly universal and available at a number of places, but hard-to-find parts may occasionally only be available through the manufacturer. To find parts from the manufacturer, check for a tag on the water heater that shows the model number. This information will typically be needed to buy the replacement part and to make sure you end up with the right part.Hot Water Heater Parts From Plumbing Supply StoresPlumbing supply stores that have a local brick-and-mortar presence are a reliable source for getting the water heater parts you need. Either write down all the information you have about the water heater and part. Or write down the model information for the water heater and take the old part with you to the plumbing supply store. If they don't have the part you need, they may be able to order it, or the plumbing professionals working there may be able to provide an equivalent part that'll work.Hot Water Heater Parts From Hardware StoresWhen you need to repair a gas hot water heater, or an electric one, some parts are often available at local hardware stores or through hardware stores that have websites for ordering parts. If possible, take the old part to the hardware store with you. If you can't take the part with you, take a picture of it, or at least write down the water heater's make and model number to make it easier to find the right part.Hot Water Heater Parts From Plumbing Supply WebsitesLike local plumbing supply stores, plumbing supply websites specialize in keeping the water in your home flowing properly, and that includes building an inventory of parts to repair a hot water heater. Expect to search by brand and model number on a plumbing supply website, and either have the part beside you or a photo of it to compare to pictures featured on the website.Hot Water Heater Parts From Online AuctionsIf you visit online auction sites to search for water heater parts, be sure to carefully review the product descriptions. Check for information on the part's condition, for example if it's new or if it came off of a working water heater. Also, check the seller's ratings and check to see if the part can be returned to the seller for a full refund if it doesn't work. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Get Pool, Spa Filter Cartridges The Easy Way When beautiful, clean pool or spa water is desired, having the right filters on hand is vital. Unfortunately, running from store to store to find pool filter cartridge replacements or spa filter cartridges is no fun at all. Quite often, stores just won't have the right pool cartridge filters available. That's why Spa-Daddy.com is here to help. Spa-Daddy.com is a Michigan-based business that specializes in spa, in-ground and above ground pool filters, spa chemicals and more. We've been in business since 2002, providing our customers with the swimming pool filter cartridges, chemicals and more that they need. Our commitment to exceptional customer service, fast delivery and low pricing have made us a leader in the spa supply and pool filter replacement cartridge industry. Having the right hot tub filters or pool cartridge filters is essential for keeping the water you swim in clean. While spa chemicals tackle bacteria, pool and spa filter cartridges are responsible for removing just about everything else from the water. They are, in fact, the only line of defense against oil, dirt and other contaminants in the spa. Making sure to have at least two full sets of spa and swimming pool filter cartridges is important for keeping water in top condition. While it's perfectly feasible to clean above ground pool filters, this is a several day process. This necessitates having at least a second set of filters on hand to use. To clean hot tub filters, make sure soak them for at least a day and dry for two. This ensures that the tiny pores that are responsible for cleaning water are opened up properly to work correctly again. To make it easy for our customers to find the right pool and spa filter cartridges, we make sure to offer an incredible selection. In fact, we have the right pool filter replacement cartridge to fit almost every model imaginable. When you decide to order from Spa-Daddy.com, you'll find we lead the industry for spa filters and pool filter cartridges because we: 1) Make ordering extremely easy - It doesn't matter whether you need spa chemicals or a replacement spa filter, we make finding the right products at the right prices simple. Our secured online store takes the hassle out of buying pool supplies. We even accept all major credit cards, Google Checkout, PayPal, online checks and mailed checks. 2) We ship fast - While we can't necessarily guarantee deliver times on spa filter cartridges to all locations, we ship orders out of our door quickly. Most orders ship the same day, in fact. To make it very easy for our customers, we ship anywhere, including military bases. Our shipping costs are free to customers in the United States and a few other locations on orders over $90.00, too. For orders less than this amount, the cost is only $6.95. International orders cost more. 3) We take customer service very seriously - At Spa-Daddy.com, we know our success depends on your happiness. We're here to serve. To prove it, we offer a one-year guarantee on orders. To find a pool filter replacement cartridge or replacement spa filter, just use our convenient search feature Silent but powerful features, your hot tub filters help ensure your hot tub's overall performance and long life. They work in the background, trapping particles as water runs through the filter media and acting as the most important line of defense against dirty spa water. HOW HOT TUB FILTERS WORK Every hot tub has some type of filter, because even when your hot tub water looks clear, contaminants such as body oils, lotions, dirt, and other environmental debris are often present. The way filters work is fairly simple: Water passes through them, trapping unwanted particles in their folds. Most hot tub filters today are designed as cartridges that can be easily removed, cleaned, and replaced. Each cartridge consists of a core structure—usually plastic—and a medium wrapped around the core that acts as the filter. Made of polyester or other materials, the medium is pleated; the many resulting folds greatly increase the surface area of the filter for better cleaning action. The more filter surface area, the cleaner your water will be. The particles trapped by the filters remain until they're cleaned out, so your role in maintaining the filter contributes greatly to its effectiveness. Neglecting regular filter maintenance and replacement could strain your hot tub pumps and heating system and cause dirt and grime to build up. Read on for recommended cleaning and replacement schedules. A BETTER KIND OF HOT TUB FILTER While polyester or "paper" filters have long been trusted and reliable options for hot tub sanitation, innovations in hot tub design have taken filter cartridges to new levels. Hot Spring® Spas has optimized ceramic fiber technology to develop a pleated cartridge filter that's just as easy to clean and maintain as its polyester counterpart. The new TRI-X® filter lasts two to four years longer and offers twice the cleaning area of other cartridges the same size. It's compatible with all Highlife Collection spa models—even those that do not come standard with TRI-X filters. With superior filters, your entire hot tub system will run more efficiently. You'll enjoy: TRI-X filters can be hosed down, sprayed with dealer-recommended cleaners, soaked in cleaning solutions, or put directly into the dishwasher. Just be sure to run the dishwasher without soap and with an unheated dry cycle. These advanced ceramic fiber filters hold up to regular rinsing better than paper filters do. When properly maintained, they'll continue to provide crystal-clear spa water for four to six years of use. WHY FILTER PLACEMENT MATTERS Whenever the spa water is moving, your hot tub should be constantly cleaning. However, not all spa manufacturers deliver that level of dedication. Some hot tubs don't include filters at every intake location; instead, they rely on just one or two filters to handle a disproportionate volume of water. The intakes without filters have suction fittings that pull water into the pump. That unfiltered water is then pushed back out through the jets. Hot Spring spas, however, feature filters at every intake point and every return, for up to five filters total and up to 325 square feet of filtration capacity to support an exceptionally powerful jet output. The result? Clean, comfortable water and excellent performance. The following video demonstrates how Hot Spring filters and pumps work together to clean your hot tub water constantly—the secret to a crystal clear spa: HOW TO CLEAN YOUR HOT TUB FILTER, AND WHEN TO REPLACE IT Keeping your filters clean and replacing them when necessary are the keys to optimal hot tub health, performance, and long life. Luckily, today's advanced cartridges are easy to clean, making your part in hot tub filter maintenance a straightforward matter. Filter TypeMonthly CleaningDeeper CleaningReplace Polyester or "Paper" Filter Cartridge Rinse with a garden hose every month and inspect the filter for signs of wear and tear. Using an instant filter cleaner spray can also help to break up oils and other stubborn particles. Every time you drain your hot tub, soak the filters in the cleaning solution your dealer recommends. Replace every 4–6 years, depending on usage and visible wear. Spraying with a garden hose is often enough to clear much of the build-up, and simple filter spray cleaners or degreasers, available from your hot tub dealer, can easily break up the rest. This video demonstrates four easy ways to clean your TRI-X filters, including one which puts your dishwasher to work: Filter maintenance and replacement schedules will vary depending on how often you use your hot tub and how many people regularly soak in it. The more contaminants that are introduced into the water, the more buildup the filter will collect. When the filtration medium is compromised, so is its ability to hold a strong line of defense against dirty spa water. To keep your hot tub running efficiently, consider calendaring your inspections, monthly cleanings, deep cleanings, and spa-drainage days according to usage over a 12-month period. Every time you remove your filters for cleaning, be sure to also inspect them for signs of wear, tear, or cracking. Pay extra attention as cartridges grow closer to the end of their lifespans. When it's time to replace your filters, choose only the certified, branded filters designed for use with your hot tub model. When your home spa depends so heavily on maximum filtration power for overall performance, you want to rely on the best. If you have any questions about what filters are right for your hot tub, how to best care for them, or any other troubleshooting tips, reach out to your nearby dealer. Hot Spring takes pride in offering a superior hot tub experience, along with simple care and maintenance requirements and responsibilities.
